Placement can also be completed based on the following:

Reading: A score of 20 or higher on the ACT Reading test or score of 480 on the SAT Evidence-Based Reading and Writing test will exempt a student from the reading placement test unless the ACCUPLACER reading test is required to apply for a limited enrollment program.

Math: High school graduates from the Maine, Glenbrook, Niles, and Evanston Districts, as well as from North Ridge Preparation High School, may use a combination of ACT/SAT test scores and successful completion of specific high school mathematics courses. For information, contact the mathematics assessment coordinator at 847.376.7110 or mathplace@oakton.edu.

This form will include tuition and fee information; scholarships and/or grants awarded to the student (if any). The IRS will also receive the same information for their records. In accordance with the IRS reporting requirements, the college will not issue a 1098-T form for noncredit courses paid fully by financial aid or scholarships, or nonresident alien students, unless requested.

†Oakton's construction fee helps fund capital projects at the Des Plaines and Skokie campuses such as the Student Center and classroom remodeling. Student representatives, surveys, and focus groups played a major role in developing and supporting the five-year Master Plan for these initiatives.

ONLINE LEARNING FALL 2018

Take courses in a flexible time mode through the Internet and/or hybrid classes. Oakton's online learning courses are excellent options for students who have family obligations, travel or scheduling conflicts, or simply prefer the ease, efficiency, and excitement of non-traditional learning. Online learning courses are as much or more work as traditional courses and require students to be highly motivated and able to work independently. However, students can enjoy the flexibility of accessing their courses each week and completing assignments at times and places of their choosing. Oakton offers two types of online learning courses: fully online and hybrid. For more information, visit www.oakton.edu/online.

ONLINE COURSES

Online courses are delivered via the Internet. Students do not log into their courses at the same time each week, but enjoy the flexibility of accessing the course at times that are most convenient, typically three to five times each week. Some courses require on-campus attendance for speeches, labs, or other activities. Mandatory on-campus sessions are listed in the Class Schedule. Several courses also require free testing on campus at either testing center (available in the individual course syllabus). If travel to campus for testing poses difficulties, arrangements can be made for off-site proctored testing (students are responsible for costs). Online courses require a $50 fee in addition to the tuition charge.

Note: Go to Online Learning at www.oakton.edu to access course descriptions, take the OASIS survey to determine student readiness for online learning, and determine minimum computer requirements. Find out if online learning is right for you!

The following courses have online sections offered for summer. To obtain the course reference number for registration, refer to the course listings in this Credit Class Schedule:

KOEHNLINE MUSEUM OF ART

Sculpting a Chicago Artist: Richard Hunt and his Teachers Nelli Bar and Egon Weiner

July 12 - September 14, 2018

Public Reception: Thursday, July 12, 5 - 8 p.m.

Richard Hunt developed his talent in the 1950s at The School of the Art Institute of Chicago with the guidance of two dynamic teachers—Nelli Bar and Egon Weiner. Bar and Weiner were both of a generation of artists who fled Europe after the rise of the Nazi regime and made Chicago their new home for their artistic ambitions. Both received their education in European academies under prominent teachers during the 1920s. Bar taught Hunt during his adolescence, and Egon Weiner was his college professor. Bar continued to make an impact on Hunt beyond his schooling as he recalls: “She has influenced me as a person over our 30-year relationship.” Hunt also remembered Weiner for “his exuberance and nurturing manner, and for being a bundle of energy.” This energy influenced and inspired his student. Hunt’s mastery developed so rapidly that the Museum of Modern Art purchased one of his sculptures in 1957 just after his graduation and eventually, he evolved into one of the most prominent Chicago sculptors and an international master. This exhibition is part of Art Design Chicago, led and funded by the Terra Foundation for American Art.

Nevertheless She Persisted: Women of Courage, Tenacity, and Strength A Juried Exhibition of Art by Women

September 27 - October 19, 2018

Public Reception: Thursday, September 27, 5 - 8 p.m.

A tradition at the Koehnlne is its annual collaboration with the Women and Gender Studies program to bear witness to the many creative women sharing their unique visions in the visual, literary, and performing arts. Nevertheless She Persisted focuses on the reserves of strength and resilience women display. We see it in the courage of women in emerging grass-roots movements such as #MeToo, #BlackLivesMatter, the National Women’s Marches, the LGBTQIA+ and international human rights movements, and the remarkable young leaders of the Parkland survivors. It rises in the determination of Ruth Bader Ginsberg, Maxine Waters, Hillary Clinton, Kamala Harris, Dolores Huerta, Elizabeth Warren, and countless others trying to break the glass ceiling in U.S. government and politics.
