History and Philosophy

From the Pyramids to Plotinus: 3,500 Years in the Adventure of Ancient Egyptian Thought

Egyptian thought has one of the longest trajectories of all of human spiritual enterprises. It stretches from at least as far into the past as the Pyramid Texts (themselves the products of a long pre-literate oral tradition) into the 4th Century C.E. in the Neoplatonism of Plotinus and the Early Church theologians. For all of its many transformations through the centuries, ancient Egyptian mythological, theological, and philosophical thinking shows a dramatic series of “through-lines” that became the foundations for Greek philosophy and Christian theology. It is impossible to understand the unfolding of Western thought without exploring its origins in Egypt. Join Emeritus teacher Douglas Gillette, M.A.R.S., M-Div. for an exciting adventure into the ancient Egyptian mind.

Join Emeritus teacher Douglas Gillette, M.A.R.S., M-Div. for a riveting exploration of Greek thought, from its origins in Minoan Crete to its flowering in early Christian theology.

Dating Photographs through Clothing

Family photographs are hard to date once the generation pictured has passed away. Many people have unidentified photos in their collection. Determining an approximate date may help to determine whether the woman in the photo is your grandmother or your great grandmother. Custom dating can help to establish a time period. Please bring no more than 2-3 photographs with you, and we will all try to date them for you using the techniques outlined in the presentation. Presented by Elizabeth (Ellie) Carlson.

The Battle for Women's Suffrage in the United States

The inherent conundrum in this battle for voting rights was that the group who could allow victory, men, was the same group that had denied victory over and over. To succeed, it took changing the hearts and minds of male legislators. Women activists had to argue not in favor of what they wanted, but rather to persuade men that the future would be better for them if women could vote. No wonder this battle raged for so many decades! There were heroes of both genders. Join Gary Midkiff, M.B.A., to learn the stories of these brave people.

Constitutional Interpretation: Originalism or the Living Constitution?

William Adler, Ph.D. will explore differing schools of thought about how to interpret the U.S. Constitution. The theory of originalism, which focuses on how constitutional provisions were understood at the time of their writing, has gained significant ground since the 1980's. In opposition, others have argued that the Constitution is a living document which must remain flexible and adapt to changing circumstances. Important cases from the nation's earliest days to the present will be examined to contextualize and understand the relative strengths and weaknesses of each approach.

Organizing Democracy: NATO, The Baltic States, and The Future of Eastern Europe

After the collapse of the Soviet Union, the three Baltic States (Latvia, Estonia, and Lithuania) sought assistance from Western democratic states, especially members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, who could offer protection against Russian aggression and support these fledgling democratic regimes. Such assistance was eventually offered, but only slowly and reluctantly. What does the Baltic experience say about the future of NATO, the fate of non-NATO Eastern European states such as Ukraine, and the prospects for a renewed Cold War? Join University of Chicago Professor Paul Poast, Ph.D. for this discussion.
