Refugees in the United States UPDATED!

Protesters Rally At LAX In Opposition To Trump's Refugee Travel Ban

According to the office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR), a refugee is a person who has left his or her country of origin and is unable or unwilling to return because of war, violence, or persecution or a well-founded fear of persecution because of race, religion, nationality, political opinion, or membership in a particular social group. Events and circumstances such as natural disasters, droughts, and deprivation of resources may also compel waves of refugees to flee a country. While the UNHCR does not count these populations under its definition of refugees, however, the agency does take... View More
