Girl, You’ll Be A Woman Soon
(By Neil Diamond)  Capo at 3rd fret

Em D A7                D     Em
Girl. . .    you’ll be a woman... soon...

Em
Love you so much, can’t count all the ways

Em
I’d die for you girl, and all they can say is: “He’s not your kind.”

Em
They never get tired of puttin’ me down,

Em
And I never know when I come around... what I’m gonna find

C
Don’t let them make up your mind... don’t you know,

Em D A7                D     Em
Girl. . .    you’ll be a woman soon.

G A7                D
Please... come take my hand.

Em D A7                D     Em
Girl. . . you’ll be a woman soon.

G A7                D
Soon. . . you’ll need a man.

Em
I’ve been misunderstood for all of my life,

Em
But what they’re sayin’, girl, just cuts like a knife: “The boy’s no good.”

Em
Well, I finally found what I’ve been looking for,

Em
But if they get the chance, they’ll end it for sure; I’m sure they would.

C
Baby, I’ve done all I could... It’s up to you,

(Repeat Chorus)

(Instrumental break: C - B7 - C - B7)

Em D A7                D     Em
Girl. . .    you’ll be a woman soon.

G A7                D
Please... come take my hand.

Em D A7                D     Em
Girl. . . you’ll be a woman soon.

G A7                D
Soon. . . you’ll need a man.

(Repeat chorus and fade)
